

Regulations for raw wood packaging

Many countries worldwide have signed up to the ISPM15 treaty which sets standards for raw wood packaging (pallets and crates) entering their country.

For a full list of the countries click on the link below:

<http://www.timcon.org/ISPM15/ISPM15GlobalGuide.asp>

If your consignment is destined for any of the countries on the list, the packaging will need to be heat treated and stamped to prove this. If you are in the UK, you can find a supplier of ISPM15 compliant wooden products through the link below:

<http://www.timcon.org/FindASupplier/Default.asp>

If your packaging does not meet the regulations, you risk incurring extra charges and having your consignment returned to the sender.